La Mexicana Taqueria, in partnership with the North Tahoe Public Utility District, is Providing Cooking Oil and Grease Recycling During the Thanksgiving Holiday Weekend

(Tahoe Vista, California) - Do you deep fry your turkey or have leftover drippings but don't know what to do with them? Don't pour any of that grease down the drain! Bring household cooking oil and grease leftover from all the delicious holiday cooking to La Mexican Taqueria, located at 8515 Brook Avenue in Kings Beach, anytime from November 27th—30th. Bins for grease recycling are located along the west side of the restaurant and are a courtesy of La Mexicana Taqueria, the North Tahoe Public Utility District, and Sierra Cost Management (a local company that coordinates yellow grease recycling for bio-fuel).

Participants may either pour the cooled cooking oil into the grease recycling bin provided, or pour the cooled cooking oil or grease back into its original container, seal, and drop off next to the grease recycling bin. As a reminder, please do not place anything other than cooking oil and kitchen grease into the recycling bin, i.e. no petroleum oil such as motor oil, food items, containers, plastic, or other trash. Please contact the District for more information.
